EXAMINE the question. This question tests your ability to draw a conclusion from three amendments in the Bill of Rights. You should read each excerpt carefully. Then think about what they have in common. RECALL what you know. You should realize that each of these amendments establishes rights for individuals accused of a crime. These rights protect us from false accusations or unfair treatment by government officials. APPLY what you know. The best answer is Choice A. All three of these amendments deal with rights for someone accused of a crime.

Now try answering some additional questions on your own.

2. The Bill of Rights was added to the U.S. Constitution primarily to —
   F  provide the President with power in times of emergency
   G  establish fair and impartial elections
   H  protect individual liberties
   J  guarantee voting privileges to minorities

3. Which guarantees freedom of the press, freedom of speech, and freedom of religion to individuals in the United States?
   A  the Treaty of Paris of 1783
   B  the Articles of Confederation
   C  the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution
   D  the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution

F republican government
G popular sovereignty
H judicial review
J checks and balances

13 What has been the impact of the First Amendment’s separation of church and state on the American way of life?
A It has brought about an end to religious differences.
B It has helped to promote religious freedom.
C It has increased American interest in religion.
D It has fostered inequality between religious groups.

14 The “due process” clause in the Fifth Amendment and the right to an attorney in the Sixth Amendment were both designed to —
F protect freedom of expression
G assure that laws are properly enacted
H ensure fair treatment for those accused of crimes
J provide for judicial review of laws

Use the passage and your knowledge of social studies to answer the following question.

“... Now, one of the most essential branches of English liberty is the freedom of one’s house. A man’s house is his castle; and whilst he is quiet, he is as well guarded as a prince in his castle ....”

— James Otis, Against the Writs of Assistance, 1761

15 Which provision in the Bill of Rights shares this same belief?
A right to a fair trial
B guarantee against double jeopardy
C protection against unreasonable searches and seizures
D prohibition of cruel and unusual punishment

16 St. John de Crevecoeur and Alexis de Tocqueville were similar in that both —
F traveled from France to America to study prison reform
G came to America during the same time period
H identified values crucial to America’s success as a constitutional republic
J were highly opposed to what they discovered in America
Use the passage and your knowledge of social studies to answer the following question.

"The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

— United States Constitution, 10th Amendment

17 This amendment in the Bill of Rights was intended to —
   A give people the right to vote on important issues
   B reduce the rights of citizens
   C limit the powers of the federal government
   D assure federal control over the states

18 Which statement describes the achievements of John Jay?
   F The only colonial governor to side with colonists, who remained in office throughout the American Revolutionary War.
   G A member of the "Committee of Five" that wrote the Declaration of Independence, and one of its original signers.
   H The author of three essays in the Federalist Papers, who also served as the nation's first Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.
   J A member of the French nobility who traveled to the United States in order to study its prison system.

19 Why did the members of the Constitutional Convention place a provision in the U.S. Constitution that allowed it to be amended?
   A Most of the members of the Convention opposed slavery.
   B They feared the decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court.
   C They wanted to enable the Constitution to adjust to changing times.
   D They needed support in state legislatures for ratification.

20 Why did Alexis de Tocqueville believe that American society was egalitarian?
   F All Americans had the same wealth.
   G Americans lacked a hereditary social class of nobles.
   H Americans had just abolished slavery just before his visit.
   J The Declaration of Independence announced that all men were created equal.

21 Which branch of government established in the original U.S. Constitution was designed to be elected directly by citizens?
   A President
   B Supreme Court
   C House of Representatives
   D the President’s Cabinet

22 Which pair of amendments proved most helpful to the development of the Civil Rights Movement?
   F 2nd and 3rd Amendments
   G 7th and 8th Amendments
   H 9th and 10th Amendments
   J 14th and 15th Amendments

Use the excerpt and your knowledge of social studies to answer the following question.

"... Anyone may say that the organizations of labor invade or deny liberty to the workmen. But go to the men who worked in the ... coal mines twelve, fourteen, sixteen hours a day, for a dollar or a dollar and twenty five cents, and who now work eight hours a day and whose wages have increased 70 per cent in the past seven years — go tell those men that they have lost their liberty and they will laugh at you ...."

— Samuel Gompers to National Civic Federation, 1905, in The Samuel Gompers Papers

3 Based on this passage, what did Gompers see as the benefit of joining a union?
A  Workers had gained better working conditions.  Hist 3(B)
B  Workers now worked longer hours in coal mines.
C  Workers were able to work for a dollar and twenty five cents.
D  Workers were able to have their children work in mines.

4 In the late 1800s, which factor directly contributed to the growth of the American steel industry?
F  government regulation  STS 27(A)
G  employee ownership
H  new production techniques
J  the formation of labor unions

5 The Interstate Commerce Act (1887) and the Sherman Antitrust Act (1890) were efforts by the federal government to —
A  regulate aspects of business  Econ 15(B)
B  expand the positive features of the trusts
C  favor big businesses over small companies
D  move toward government ownership of key industries

6 In the late nineteenth century, critics of big business claimed that monopolies in the United States harmed the economy by —
F  unfairly limiting competition  Econ 15(B)
G  decreasing the urban growth rate
H  preventing technological innovation
J  failing to keep pace with European industries

7 During the late 1800s, what was a major effect of industrialization on American workers?
A  Membership in labor unions declined.  Hist 3(B)
B  Workers migrated to rural regions.
C  Most factory jobs became service industry jobs.
D  Skilled craftsmen were often replaced by unskilled machine operators.

1. Based on the table, what was an important effect of industrialization in the United States in the later part of the nineteenth century?
   A. People began to move from cities to rural areas.
   B. The urban population declined.
   C. The rate of expansion of railroad lines began to drop.
   D. The proportion of Americans living in cities continuously increased.

EXAMINE the question. The table provides information about U.S. demography and railroad mileage. To answer the question, you need to look at each choice and see if it is accurate based on the table.

RECALL what you know. You should recall how to read a table. The table shows an increasing percentage of people living in cities every decade.

APPLY what you know. The best answer is Choice D. If you examine each of the other answer choices, you will see that, according to the table, they are not supported by information provided in the table.

Now try answering some additional questions on your own.

2. Nativists in California in the 1880s would most likely have supported the —
   F. creation of settlement houses to aid new immigrants
   G. passage of the Chinese Exclusion Act
   H. continuation of the contract labor system
   J. assimilation of Native American Indians into mainstream culture

3. After 1880, where did the majority of “New Immigrants” to the United States come from?
   A. Northern and Western Europe
   B. Canada and Latin America
   C. Southern and Eastern Europe
   D. China and Southeast Asia
4. During the late nineteenth century, where were the reservations located that North American Indian tribes were sent to?
   - F along the major rivers of the Midwest
   - G near large cities in the Northwest
   - H in sparsely populated areas of the West
   - J east of the Mississippi River

5. What conclusion can be drawn from the table about the effect of the Transcontinental Railroad on these Western cities?
   - A These cities became corrupt and crime-ridden.
   - B The population of Western cities increased greatly.
   - C Most Native American Indians relocated to these cities.
   - D Railroads had little impact on these cities.

6. Which statement accurately describes the development of the Great Plains in the late nineteenth century?
   - F Great profits were earned there in the steel industry.
   - G Railroads decreased in importance.
   - H Immigrants could not afford to farm these lands.
   - J Technological innovations made farming there possible.

7. During the last part of the nineteenth century, most immigrants to the United States found work as —
   - A unskilled factory and sweatshop workers
   - C educated professionals
   - B scientists and technicians
   - D skilled craftsmen

8. In the late nineteenth century, the “bosses” of urban political machines often —
   - F denied voting rights to the poor
   - G accepted bribes in return for favors
   - H wasted money on military spending
   - J discriminated against migrant workers
Use the information in the bar graph and your knowledge of social studies to answer the following question.

9  Based on this poster, which is an accurate statement?
   A Immigrants were encouraged to learn to speak English.
   B Granite City had laws prohibiting immigrants from moving there.
   C The people in the poster were native-born Americans.
   D Granite City encouraged diversity in its immigrant population.
   (Cult 26(B))

10 During the late 1800s and early 1900s, prejudice against “New Immigrants” increased because these immigrants —
   F had job skills superior to those of most American workers
   G formed their own labor unions in order to receive higher wages
   H came from cultural backgrounds different from those of the majority of Americans
   J tried to replace American democracy with other forms of government

11 What major trend occurred to the population of the United States during the industrial expansion of the late nineteenth century?
   A farm population increased
   B migration to rural areas increased
   C immigration decreased
   D urbanization increased

12 The Homestead Act (1862) promoted the development of western lands by —
   F creating a system of dams for crop irrigation
   G providing free land to settlers
   H removing all restrictions on immigration
   J moving Native American Indians to reservations

13 In the late 1800s, why did Congress pass restrictions on immigration from China?
   A to stop illegal immigration from Latin America
   B to provide highly skilled workers for industry
   C to limit the power of urban political machines
   D to satisfy nativist prejudices in California

14 Historians use data from a variety of sources to —
   H analyze economic trends
   J examine contemporary attitudes
   (Hist 26(C))
Use the information in the line graph and your knowledge of social studies to answer the following question.

14 Based on the graph, why did immigration increase between 1895 and 1905?
F The Panic of 1893 had occurred.
G Expanding industries provided jobs for immigrants.
H Immigrants came in search of cheap land in the West.
J World War I ended.

15 Between 1880 and 1900, most immigrants coming to the United States settled in cities because —
A factory and workshop jobs were available there
B little available farmland remained in the Midwest
C most immigrants came from large cities in Europe
D city laws afforded special rights and protections for immigrants

Use the information in the bar graph and your knowledge of social studies to answer the following question.

16 Based on the information on the graph, which statement is most accurate?
F People who lived in urban areas were poor.
G The percentage of urban population increased between 1850 and 1900.
H By 1900, 30% of the population lived in rural areas.
J Industrialization led to an increase in the rural population in the late 1800s.

CHECKING YOUR UNDERSTANDING

Directions: Put a circle around the letter that best answers the question.

Use the information in the passage and your knowledge of social studies to answer the following question.

“In slave times, the Negro was kept subservient and submissive by the frequency and severity of the scourging [whipping], but with freedom, a new system of intimidation came into vogue; the Negro was not only scourged; he was lynched.”

1. The above quotation most closely represents the views held by —
   A  William Jennings Bryan
   B  Ida B. Wells
   C  Upton Sinclair
   D  Susan B. Anthony

EXAMINE the question. This question tests your ability to identify a view characteristic of a particular person. RECALL what you know. You should recall that a leader in the movement to expose the barbarity of lynchings, especially those against African Americans in the South, was Ida B. Wells. She systematically attacked lynching and violent crimes carried out against African Americans. She went on speaking tours in the United States and England to encourage people to oppose lynchings. APPLY what you know. The best answer is Choice B. Although William Jennings Bryan, Upton Sinclair and Susan B. Anthony would most likely have opposed lynchings, it was Ida B. Wells who devoted her life to ending this practice.

Now try answering some additional questions on your own.

2. Books such as The Octopus by Frank Norris, How the Other Half Lives by Jacob Riis, and The Jungle by Upton Sinclair exposed problems that resulted from —
   F  the naturalization of immigrants
   G  environmental conservation
   H  westward expansion
   J  rapid industrialization

3. Members of the Progressive Movement generally supported the idea that the federal government should —
   A  prevent unfair business practices
   B  restrict immigration to the United States
   C  reduce the number of small farms
   D  abolish private property ownership
